PRIVATE EXPERIENCE / ENGLISH

San Pedro & San Pablo

A mountain expedition in the vicinity of the San Pedro and San Pablo volcanoes. The standard three-day itinerary serves as a logistical framework; the actual objectives depend on your preparation and do not necessarily include summiting both peaks.

Your itinerary

Approach.

Upon arrival at the designated base camp, we will assess the group's condition. The proposal outlines access, equipment transport, and the handling of group gear.

Progression and preparation

The adaptation phase allows for setting up camp, evaluating how participants respond to the altitude, and finalizing the objective. The fact that both volcanoes are included in the program's name does not imply that both must be climbed.

Mountain excursion

The route is followed according to a pre-established return schedule. The guide will evaluate weather conditions, terrain, and physical exertion to determine how far to proceed.

Descent.

We return to the base camp and pack up all equipment before the final transfer. Contingency days and potential alternative plans are detailed in the technical proposal.

DURATION

Standard duration: 3 days; adjustable.

DISTANCE / ROUTE

Route and metrics to be confirmed.

EFFORT

High-altitude mountaineering

MEALS

Meal and water plan for each stage; equipment and support as specified in the proposal.

TRANSPORT

Hotel pickup and drop-off in San Pedro (depending on location). Private transfers with stops coordinated by the guide.

PREPARATION

Acclimatization and prior experience required. Please request a technical itinerary tailored to your specific objective.
